Vision & Mission

Our vision is that every pet gets the right food it deserves. That's it.

Day by day, we strive to achieve our vision by being the first provider that brings all pet owners & pet food brands together - in one place and with the highest degree of transparency.

How CheckForPet works

The search for the right food

Finding suitable food in the jungle of brands is time-consuming for dog and cat owners and very expensive. This is where we come in with our food check.

Analysis of suitable and top-rated products

Based on various data such as breed, age, and activity level, the food check compares and analyses existing data and evaluations. From this information, the most suitable and best-rated food samples of different brands are selected and sent directly to the pet owners from our warehouse in Hamburg.

Our on-site food advice

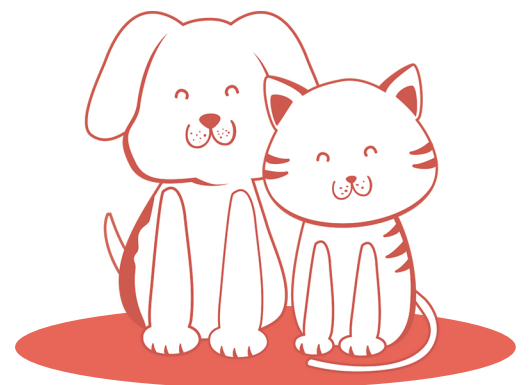

Dog and cat owners can test the different brands from the comfort of their own homes and find out which food is well-accepted and suits their pet.

Transparent mediation

Once suitable pet food has been found, we help to mediate the best products in each case through the integrated online shops on our website.

Independent evaluations

We are asking pet owners to rate the food they already have according to composition, value for money, and overall satisfaction, and share their findings with other pet owners with the same search criteria.
